

FINDING COMMONALITIES

Tom Drabas

OVERVIEW

Finding commonalities within populations, counted in hundreds of millions, and with tens of millions of distinct feature values, is a non-trivial task. Current techniques employ variations of FP-Tree algorithms to extract useful patterns. In this tutorial we will showcase an end-to-end novel approach to finding frequent patterns using cuGraph capabilities available in RAPIDS